

I want you to know that I very much object to airing this so called documentary. It is blatant partisan politics and further reduces any shred of respect I might muster for the Bush machine. It is still shocking and sad that to speak out against one's government policies is seen as unAmerican and unpatriotic. The Bush gang has done a slimey, slick job of undermining Kerry's war record which takes guts considering that Bush's is so abysmal. One thing we know for sure is that Kerry was there or are the Bushies going to refute that. They are so outrageous one never knows. this is dirty politics at its worst. Take some responsibility and grow up!
